

Kirk and Denise Johnson invite you to a special event in our home on July 14, 2010. "We will be hosting a Sho Tai clinic and have invited Will Bell, Sho Tai Practitioner to perform the healing magic that we have come to know and respect. The process is amazing to see and the results are equally impressive. We invite all family, friends, and those in need to come and join us. We are accepting appointments from 10 a.m. onward. We hope you will join us. It can change your life!"

What is SHO TAI?

SHO TAI is a non-invasive procedure of testing the body. SHO TAI is considered an art form based on an ancient Chinese procedure to test the body by relying on acupuncture pressure points and electrical impulses distributed along by the brain. This method uses a combination of techniques to assess the body's level of health and the body's ability to heal itself. SHO TAI is the most advanced technique in Canada that does not use equipment, machinery or chemicals to determine ailments in the body.
